Collins Admits Has No Data on Water Program Cost

FIGURES NOT MADE KNOWN

HE STATES

Congressman Says Low Cost Ruling Would Hit Project Here SUGGESTS WAY OUT Statement Is Answer To Demand By Hall For the Facts

Congressman Sam L. Collins today said he was unable to tell the exact man-year cost of the Orange county water program which, according to his recent announcement, would be barred from construction under the Works Progress administration because its man-year cost is too high.

The federal limit for such projects, Mr. Collins said, has been set at $140. Projects of the type Orange county is contemplating naturally cost $2200 to $2500 per man-year, Mr. Collins said, but he has not seen the exact figures on the Orange county program, he admitted. So far these have not been made public.

The only possible way in which the Orange county program could be carried out under WPA, Congressman Collins said, would be for the county to supply enough low cost projects to offset the high man-year cost of the water program.

Hopes for Revision Congressman Collins said he is hopeful that these regulations on man-year cost will be revised so that such projects can be revised that such projects can be constructed with federal aid. Today's statements by Congressman Collins were made after Edward Hall, prominent Santa Ana citrus grower, said in an interview Saturday that the water problem is so serious that the facts on it (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

Chamber's 'Cool' Slogan Slightly Altered By Heat

"It's always cool in Santa Ana--well almost always." That's the new slogan before consideration of the chamber of commerce today, Howard I. Wood, secretary, announced. The weatherman began to froth over the week-end, working up to a nasty temper of 93 degrees at 1 p. m. yesterday. Specialists hunting the source of the old fellow's ire decided it wasn't publicity given to heat's enemy, "cool," when they glimpsed weather reports of other cities. Following are some of them: Yuma hit a high of 110 degrees yesterday, with Boise, Idaho, and Needles at 106. Three cities, reporting cloudy skies, Portland, Redding, and St. Louis, still had their thermometers basked to 100. Fresno, Calif., reported 100 degrees and clear weather.

$65,000 BEAN LAND SOLD

Cash Paid For Acreage At Greenville By Gisler Brothers

The second large land deal of the month was made public today with news of the sale of 63½ acres of bean land at Greenville to Tom and Walter Gisler, brothers, for $65,000 cash.

Doc W. Ellis, who had farmed the land for many years, was the seller, the deal being handled through C. McCain, Santa Ana real estate dealer.

The property is located at the southwest corner of Greenville and Talbert roads and is regarded as being the equal of the best farm land in the county.

The $65,000 deal was made on a basis of $1025 per acre. An interesting sidelight on the transaction is that two years ago 60 acres on the northwest corner of the same intersection were sold by F. D. Plavan at $900 an acre to a Los Angeles man.

The purchasers are the sons of Robert Gisler, and grew up in the Greenville area, where they have been connected with bean farming for some time.

On Saturday The Journal carried the news of another deal in which the estate of the late Mrs. Maria Harris sold 107½ acres of property three-quarters of a mile north of Balsa to V. A. Phillips, Inc., of Los Angeles. This also was a cash deal, the price being $35,000.

TO SIGN PENSION BILL

SACRAMENTO, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Governor Merriam is expected to sign this afternoon the second piece of social legislation passed by the 51st legislature, the liberalized old age pension act, Assemblyman William Hornblower, San Francisco, the author, said today.

OFFICIAL SEEKS AIR MARK CAPE TOWN.—Otto Thanning, Danish consul here, and Mrs. Thanning hopped off at 4:08 p. m. (10:08 a. m., E.S.T.), in an American plane in an attempt to reach London Friday morning to keep an appointment. If the fliers are successful, they will break the Cape Town-to-London record set by Amy Molison in 1932.

BLACK WIDOW BLAMED ALVA, Okla.—The bite of a Black Widow spider was named by physicians as the cause of the death of Joe Ralis of Wichita, here yesterday.

WATER OUTLOOK BETTER

Farm Official Tells News

Two outstanding developments which may brighten the picture for Orange county's water project took place at a farm bureau conference at Fort Collins, Colo., it was reported by Roland D. Flaherty, local farm bureau secretary, and Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg, who had returned here today after attending the convence.

The subject of water conservation was brought forcefully to national attention by speakers from several western states who spoke of the need for it. They stressed the desirability of better legislation to support water conservation and for more government help.

and develop existing areas rather than to bring in new ones. This would mean the improvement of such areas as Orange county, through water conservation programs.

Johnson's Viewpoint Alex Johnson, secretary of the California farm bureau, told the gathering that the need for considering developed areas is equally as important as the unemployment question. This was in line with a resolution urging that restrictions against high cost projects be removed by the federal government, where such projects are constructive and merit such action.

Mr. Flaherty also conferred with Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American farm bureau federation and a member of the allotment board advising the president (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

10,000 DIE IN CHINA FLOOD TRAGEDY

Han River Breaks Dike Near Hanyang; Boat Crew Tells Scene

FEW HAD CHANCE! Disaster Worse Than River's Rampages Of 1870 and 1931

HANKOW, China, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Chinese advisers estimated that 10,000 persons perished today when the flood waters of the Han river surged through a dike near Hanyang and overwhelmed a large area of the thickly populated countryside.

Members of a Chinese motorboat crew who saw the bursting of the dike while crossing the river brought back a vivid eyewitness account of the disaster.

"Horrible Sight" "It was a horrible sight," one of them said. "A wall of water literally leaped through the breach, sweeping everything before it—houses, livestock and humans."

"The survivors must have been pitifully few for the people were taken utterly by surprise and had no time to seek safety."

Two-thirds of Hanyang itself adjacent to Hankow was estimated to be under water.

Worst Flood The Han river flood has far outstripped in severity the previous rampages of this river, the district—which survived the disasters of 1870 and 1931—lying shattered by the seething torrents.

The water mark of the Yangtze river at Hankow dropped slightly late today but this city, too, was menaced with the dikes already weakened by the pounding waters.

Eclipse of Moon Is Due Here Early Tonight

Even eclipses are going in for a new deal. There will be an eclipse of the moon tonight for which no one will have to stay out later than 8:00 p. m.

Mrs. Jennie L. Tessman, who leads junior college students through the mazes of astronomy, said today that if it is cloudy several hundred miles off the coast, the eclipse may not be completely visible because of refraction from the sun's rays being cut off.

However, Santa Ana residents will begin watching for the phenomenon at 7:12 p. m. The eclipse will be complete at 8:09 p. m. The moon will remain in shadow for 41 minutes. By 10:50 p. m. the moon will be her old, natural self again.

John and Mary Jones, Taxes, and the U.S.A.

(EDITORIAL)

AS CONGRESSIONAL committees start work on a new tax bill amid such editorial epithets as "soak the thrifty," let's look at some federal taxes, visible and invisible, in the family budget of John and Mary Jones. The Joneses are much more fortunate than the average American family. John has a steady white-collar job, salary $3600 a year. The Joneses belong to the upper-crust 1,700,000 who have incomes large enough to be taxable. Their federal income tax is small, to be sure, since by deducting the 10 per cent earned income credit ($360), the $2500 married-couple exemption and the $400 additional exemption for their one child—little Oscar—only $340 of John's income remains to be taxed, at 4 per cent. The Joneses pay a federal income tax of $13.60.

It is not much, but that $13.60 paid on March 15 is about the most painful outlay in the whole year. John and Mary see their hard-earned money slip through their fingers into the yawning coffers of the federal government. They have a personal interest in insisting that their government spend that $13.60 prudently.

Having listed the outstanding visible tax in the Jones budget, let us itemize a few hidden federal taxes, ignoring entirely, for purposes of simplification, state and local taxes.

The Joneses have a small car. It cost about $600. Every few years they trade in their old car and get a new one. The cost of depreciation and replacement runs about $120 a year. The federal tax on automobiles is 3 per cent. So we'll average out the tax item at 3 per cent of $120 . . . $3.60.

They drive the car about 10,000 miles a year, get 15 miles to the gallon of gas, pay a federal tax of 1c on each of the 666 gallons . . . $6.66.

The car uses an average of one quart of lubricating (Please Turn to Page 12)

HALT BOARD'S IRELAND RIOT WORK PLANS SCENE QUIET

Need For Speed Cause For Abandonment, Says Official

WASHINGTON, Monday, July 15. (AP)—High officials said today that elaborate plans prepared by the national resources board—on which President Roosevelt originally based the $4,000,000,000 work relief program—have been abandoned so far as the present jobs drive is concerned.

Lack of money and the need for speed in getting started toward the goal of 3,500,000 jobs were given as the chief reasons.

With Secretary Ickes as its chairman, the board submitted to Mr. Roosevelt last year a coordinated public works program to improve land, water and mineral resources. It suggested a permanent work program which might involve expenditure of $125,000,000 in the next half century.

Explaining some of the delays in the present work program, one high official said today that it was not until May, after the Work Relief act was passed, that any plans for spending the huge appropriation existed for those prepared by the board.

VICTIM TELLS LOOSE STORY OF AFFAIR

Six Diamond Rings Gone From Fingers, Asserts Pasadena Visitor

OFFICERS PUZZLED

Foreigners Blamed As Story of Looting In Park Recounted

Six diamond rings, valued at $1000, were stripped from the fingers of Mrs. Ferne Ward, 35, of Pasadena, after she had been drugged yesterday by two men in Irvine park, according to the story she told Deputy Sheriff Ray Fisher, on duty in the park.

Mrs. Ward was rushed to the Orange county hospital and examined by physicians who reported that effects of the asserted drug apparently had worn off before her arrival.

The woman told officers that the drug had been administered by two men whom she described as being either Chinese or Japanese. When, where or how the drug was administered could not be learned by officers, who admit they are puzzled by the case.

Mrs. Ward told officers a disconnected story of having picked up two hitch-hikers, Mr. and Mrs. Houston McGowan, of Oklahoma. The robbery victim said she let the couple out of her automobile in El Modena and continued her trip to the park after having picked up the two young men who, she asserted, drugged and robbed her.

She told officers she arrived at the park with her two passengers, but has not explained her movements after that time. Whether she remained in company of the two men, where they went or what happened is unexplained. McGowan, however, is in the county jail, having been arrested by Constable George Bartley in El Modena and charged with being drunk.

Deputy Sheriff James Ragan, assigned to investigate the case, said today that continued questioning of Mrs. Ward, who is staying with friends in Anaheim, has failed to lift the cloud of mystery of the diamond theft.

STRONG QUAKE HITS QUETTA

QUETTA, India, Monday, July 15. (AP)—An earth shock of great intensity, lasting 15 seconds, was felt here at 11 a. m. today. It was accompanied by strange gurgling sounds.

Quetta, the "City of Death," was already in ruins from an earthquake May 31 in which 28,000 persons died. The total number of deaths throughout the Indian area devastated by that temblor has been estimated at about 60,000.

More than 100 villages were wiped out throughout a surrounding district about 130 miles long and 20 miles wide.

Baker, 76, Who Stopped Sleeping For 50 Years Dies

KINSDALE, Irish Free State, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Jack MacCarthy, 76, a baker who baked all night and hunted all day, died today.

When he was a young man, MacCarthy decided that people lost too much time sleeping. So he gradually cut down on his own sleeping until he said he was able to forego slumber entirely.

He boasted that he slept less in 50 years than the average man does in six months. As to how he did it, he always declined to say.

Merriam Signs Bill Keeping Reds Out Of Schools

SACRAMENTO, Monday, July 15. — Gov. Merriam late Saturday signed Assembly Bill 106, which denies radicals the use of the public school buildings for meetings.

"This measure," the governor remarked, "was passed by the legislature only after a minority group in the assembly had made prolonged and bitter attempts to weaken it by amendments sponsored by radical interests."

"I consider it one of the most important bills that came to my desk from the legislature. At this time, when the depression, the economic distress of our people and the world-wide governmental disturbances have been taken advantage of by communistic and radical groups to increase general unrest, it is imperative that the state aid in every way possible to suppress un-American movements. To permit the use of our school buildings for meetings to disseminate the teachings and propaganda of these forces is inconceivable."

The measure was supported by the American Legion and various other veteran and patriotic organizations.

BLAST KILLS 10 MINERS

32 Injured And Scores Trapped By Explosion 2400 Feet Down

DORTMUND, Germany, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Ten miners were killed, 32 injured and an undetermined number trapped underground today when an explosion 2400 feet below the surface set fire to the coal shaft in which they were working.

The mine employs 1400 miners. Half that number, 700, were working when the blast occurred.

Refusing to divulge the extent of the disaster or say how many were trapped, the director of the mine said: "We are forbidden to talk or give details about the explosion."

Confidence was expressed that the fire raging below, which was said to be already "limited," could be extinguished in time to save the entombed workers from suffocation.

MRS. WALEY IS HAPPY IN JAIL

TACOMA, Monday, July 15. (AP) The assertion that "life is nothing without Harmon, anyway," came from 19-year-old Margaret Waley, convicted George Weyerhaeuser kidnaper, today as her counsel planned further legal battling to keep her from prison, already decreed for 45 years for Harmon Waley, her husband.

Motions for arrest of judgment, as well as for a new trial, are to be argued before Federal Judge E. E. Cushman on Wednesday, the date he had set for imposing sentence on the girl, convicted by a jury late Saturday. John F. Dore, chief defense counsel, and Stephen J. O'Brien, associate counsel, were making preparations today for the moves.

Back In Prison Waley, meanwhile, was back at McNeil Island, not having been called to the stand on Friday to aid his wife's defense, although he was brought here from the island prison both Friday and the previous day.

Mussolini Also Orders 10 New Submarines To Be Constructed

250,000 IN SERVICE

Formation of Black Shirt Militia Commanded By Premier Today

ROME, Monday, July 15. (AP)—With war between Italy and Ethiopia increasingly regarded as inevitable, Premier Benito Mussolini today ordered the mobilization of another regular army division and the creation of an additional division of Black Shirt militia.

Il Duce also ordered the immediate construction of 10 new submarines.

An official communique which announced the new preparations for possible hostilities in East Africa said "the accelerated rhythm of military preparation by Ethiopia forces us to proceed with additional measures of military character."

Today's order brings the number of regular army divisions destined for East Africa to five. Five Black Shirt divisions also have been created. This means Italy will have at least 250,000 men for service against Ethiopia, should war begin.

The communique said Il Duce had called out specialists and technical experts of the classes of 1909, 1910 and 1912, and summoned new quotas of pilots and specialists for the air force.

BEACHES HAVE BUSIEST DAY

Orange county beaches had their busiest day of the season Sunday with activity surpassing even the near-record Fourth of July turnout. And not a single fatality marred the day.

Lifeguards at Newport reported eight assists of swimmers in distress and three rescues. They would divulge no names, however.

One unofficial estimate placed the Sunday beach crowd at 50,000, while another report said the Huntington Beach fishing pier had more than 1000 fishermen on it most of the day. There were no rescues or assists at Huntington Beach, guards said.

Skinny Skribbles

Most everybody in Orange county knows C. F. (Skinny) Skirvin and most everybody reads his daily column in The Journal called Skinny Skribbles. It is a delightful, homespun close-up of Santa Ana and the county and describes the daily experiences of this big little man we see hopping around town with his eyes and ears cocked to everything that is going on. It is grand to have a happy, lovable disposition like Skinny's. It is grander still to be able to reflect it and share it with readers of The Journal. Skinny's column will be found daily on the editorial page. There's a chuckle in every line besides a world of old-fashioned philosophy that's good for the soul.

LABOR DEPARTMENT SENDS CONCILIATOR TO BOULDER DAM ROW

POLICE KEEP PEACE; 400 NOW IDLE

Truck Drivers Decide Not to Strike And Work Goes On

WASHINGTON, Monday, July 15. (AP)—The labor department today sent E. H. Fitzgerald, a conciliator, to Boulder City, Nev., to seek settlement of the carpenters' and steel workers' strike at the Boulder dam project.

EXTRA POLICE KEEP QUIET IN BOULDER CITY

BOULDER CITY, Nev., Monday, July 15. (AP)—Extra police and sheriff's deputies, prepared for any emergency, patrolled the streets of Boulder City today as striking workmen on the Boulder dam project and representatives of the contractors planned to submit their differences to a board of arbitration.

Fifty more workmen went on strike over the week-end, bringing the total number of men idle to about 400. A complete paralysis of work, however, diminished when the Truck Drivers' union voted not to strike.

Glen Bodell, chief agent for Six Companies, Inc., the contractors, was in charge of precautions being taken to guard the company's property. He ordered an old road leading from Las Vegas to Boulder City dynamited so that entry could be made only to the government reservation by the new highway, which is controlled by a gate.

The carpenters and steel workers struck Friday in protest against traveling on their own time from Boulder City to the dam, a distance of about eight miles. Had the truck drivers also struck they would have succeeded in tying up all work on the dam.

NEW L.A. MILK RULE HALTED

LOS ANGELES, Monday, July 15. (AP)—At the request of four large dairy producing concerns Superior Judge Emmet H. Wilson today issued a temporary restraining order preventing the city of Los Angeles from enforcing the new ordinance prohibiting milk deliveries between 7 p. m. and 8 a. m.

MORE ABOUT WATER

(Continued from Page 1.) on construction projects. Mr. O'Neal's opinion is that if a project under conditions such as exist here can pass the engineering tests, it will have a good chance of federal aid, Mr. Flaherty said. He also said Mr. O'Neal commended Orange county on the preparation of its flood control and water conservation report, pointing out that it was one of the best he had seen. There never has been any question raised so far of the Orange county project not meeting engineering tests.

O'Neal Pledges Aid Mr. O'Neal has pledged his aid to the Orange county project. He also told Mr. Flaherty that an agreement had been reached at Washington for coordination of the policies of the various agencies carrying out the new work relief program. The agreement, Mr. O'Neal said, was satisfactory to him.

From the strictly farm bureau standpoint, the outstanding feature of the convention at Fort Collins was the spirit of aggressiveness shown by farm leaders from the 11 western states represented. One strong organization is needed to take the lead with all the projects that are under way, Mr. Flaherty said.

He also commented on the fact that farm women are taking a much more active interest in economic affairs of Washington.

Farm Advisor Wahlberg commented on remarks made by A. S. Goss of the Farm Credit administration, who spoke of that agency as the largest loaning institution in the world. It has 655,000 loans outstanding.

Loan Total Large In the past two or three years loans have been made totalling about $69,000,000 per month. The grand total is approximately $2,750,000,000. This agency, Mr. Goss said, has made possible the lowest interest rate ever available to agriculture.

Mr. Wahlberg outlined briefly the present needs of western agriculture as stressed by speakers from various states. These included the need for a balanced production program, an intelligent marketing system, well informed members in farm organizations, better living conditions in farm homes because 65 per cent of western farm homes need at least one form of modern conveniences; a better and more effective weed control program, need for water conservation, for better support of agricultural colleges and the agricultural extension service, better farm to market roads, more co-operative marketing organizations and better rural organization leadership.

ANOTHER ENDURANCE RECORD?

MORE ABOUT COLLINS

(Continued from Page One) man-year cost be made known, and if they are too high, some attempt should be made to arrive at another method of financing the program, perhaps through some other government agency.

The seriousness of the Orange county problem, as has been pointed out by a number of leaders, lies in the fact that without a dam on the Santa Ana river to conserve flood waters, this county so far has found no way to establish and clinch its rights to the water.

Upper Counties Opposed In the meantime the upper counties of Riverside and San Bernardino are able to continue establishing new water rights and to continue carrying on water spreading operations. Water spread in the upper counties does not reach Orange county.

The upper counties, anxious to maintain their favored position, have opposed the Orange county project. They have asserted that a dam for Orange county at Prado would interfere with the rising streams in the reservoir floor.

With a dam on the river, Orange county is unable to catch and save the flood waters which do come down the stream in a year of heavy rains. The water goes on to the ocean.

MORE ABOUT WORK PLANS

(Continued from Page One) fund was to be divided, the administration based its classification entirely on the board's program, this official added.

He said that although the public works administration had collaborated in drawing up the program it had no plans of its own. Neither, he said, had Harry L. Hopkins' relief administration because neither Hopkins nor Ickes knew until two weeks after the work relief act was signed which would be in charge.

Mile-High Philippine Town Is Gold Center

This group of typical Baguio miners at an entrance to one of the district's gold producers, includes Igorotes, primitive tribesmen; Chinese, and Tagalogs, members of the most cultured of the Filipino races.

BAGUIO, Philippines (AP)—In the face of political uncertainties, Baguio, "de luxe" mining camp, is on the boom and expects to increase its gold and silver output 50 per cent in 1935.

A mile-high resort town, developed under the American regime, Baguio is center of the Philippine gold production which already rivals Alaska's and has been increasing steadily in recent years.

Mines Make Big Money Seven producing gold mines in the area had a total output in 1934 of more than $10,500,000 at the new gold price of $35 an ounce.

Three additional mines already have started their mills turning this year and four more are expected to start operations soon. There is no such excited boom as was known in the Yukon, but there are virtually no capable mining men unemployed in the district. About 15,000 work at the mines, including 100 American engineers.

The labor is chiefly primitive Igorote tribesmen, though some Chinese and Tagalogs, upper class Filipinos, are used.

Cool Climate in Tropics Baguio has a permanent population of 10,000. It is one of the most famous resorts in the Orient. In spite of its location in the tropics, it always is cool enough for woolens, though freezes are unknown.

The town has modern churches, hotels, clubs and schools. Highways in the vicinity are paved and the mines are at a convenient commuting distance from the residential and business districts.

GRAZING FOR POULTRY

Poultrymen have found Italian rye grass, crimson clover or a mixture of both furnish excellent grazing for their flocks during the mild winters in the south.

MORE ABOUT MRS. WALEY

In the closing hours of the trial here, Dore told the jury he did not call Waley because Waley would have testified the Weyerhaeuser boy was taken to Idaho, and by so doing he "would have been a perjurer and a liar."

'Connected Story' Waley connected the story about the Idaho trip in an effort to avoid the state kidnap law, with its death penalty," Dore said.

No confirmation was available today of widespread reports since the trial closed that William Dainard, alias Mahan, the alleged "brains" of the $200,000 snatch, was nearing his trial's end, and that department of justice agents expected an early capture. Agents here declined to comment.

The verdict, convicting Mrs. Waley of both counts of the Lindbergh law and conspiracy charges, was brought in by the jury and read by Judge Cushman at 4:36 p. m. Saturday afternoon. The jury had taken the case at 10:44 a. m. and called for instructions several times.

Verdict "Satisfies" A short time later, a statement signed by Mrs. Waley was released by U. S. Marshal A. J. Chitty, in which she said she was "satisfied with the verdict."

She expressed the possibility of two life sentences, one on the count charging she and her husband, and the fugitive co-defendant Mahan, kidnaped the 9-year-old Tacoma boy and took him across a state line.

The other is on the count charging they conspired to kidnap and transport him out of the state while negotiating the ransom payment.

In view of the 45-year sentence Judge Cushman imposed on Waley when he pleaded guilty to the same counts and attempted to take all the blame from his wife government and defense attorneys do not believe a life sentence is likely.

COLLEGE SUES STATE BOARD

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, July 15. (AP)—The state college of chiropractic of San Jose filed suit today in superior court for $100,000 damages against the state board of chiropractic examiners, alleging that the board refused to allow graduates of the school to take the state examination for admission to practice because the college does not grant degree of doctor of chiropractics.

NO RECALL FOR U. S. SENATOR

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Members of the senate were more disturbed than they cared to admit openly when a move was started in Arizona to recall Senator Hayden because he stood by President Roosevelt on his veto of the soldiers' bonus bill.

Senator George of Georgia, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections and a former supreme court justice of his state, quietly was commissioned to look into the situation to determine if such a thing could be done. The senator, after thorough study, reported to his colleagues any attempt to recall them would be merely a waste of time and effort.

"No state can impair the supremacy of the federal government," he declared, "by in any manner interrupting the tenure of office of any person serving under federal authority."

Senator George's findings on this question are considered important by members of the senate. There are 12 states with laws which provide for the recall of state and local officials. Application of this state recall system to the office of United States senator has been a moot question for a long time.

George's contention is that any attempt to recall a senator is in direct conflict with Article I of the Constitution which provides that each house of congress may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior and with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

"Under the guise of a recall election," he says, "the state would attempt to expel a member of the senate and thereby usurp a power vested exclusively in the senate by the constitution. The supreme court has ruled that the seat into which a senator originally is inducted can become vacant only by his death, by expiration of his term of office, or by some direct action on the part of the senate in the exercise of its constitutional powers."

Further, he says that a state can't set up qualifications for senators in addition to those outlined in the constitution.

This does not mean there is any official coolness, simply that Washington couples avail themselves of the Terrace Fountain on the Capitol Plaza when the evenings are sweltering, to watch the water play as the lighted dome looms above, and mayhap snatch a hand squeeze or two.

LOCAL RESIDENT ENDS LIFE

The eighth suicide in Orange county since June 1 was recorded last night when Claude E. Waggener, 48, of 306 Spurgeon street, Santa Ana, ended his own life by sending a bullet from a .38 caliber revolver through his heart while sitting in his car in front of the home of his wife at 1524 North Broadway.

His body was discovered at 6 a. m. today by a neighbor, A. B. Gardner, 1602 North Broadway, who noticed a foot protruding from the open door of Mr. Waggener's car.

Mr. Gardner called police, and Officer B. A. Hershey investigated. Corner Earl Abbey learned that neighbors had heard a shot fired shortly before last midnight, but paid little attention to the sound, believing it to be an automobile back-firing. One witness told Coroner Abbey he had seen the car parked in front of the house at 12:15 a. m. today.

Mr. Waggener had been employed as a truck driver for the county since December 12, 1915, and had formerly been employed by Griffith Lumber company, the Pacific Electric Railway company, and the Irvine ranch company. He was born in Long Island, Kas., in 1886.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Marie D. Waggener; two sons, Deering and Calvin Waggener; two brothers, Arthur T. and E. E. of Santa Ana; and a sister, Mrs. W. F. Dietrich, of Santa Ana. Funeral announcements will be made from the Harrell and Brown mortuary.

Mr. Waggener left no note which would explain his action in taking his life. Recently he was named defendant in a court suit filed by Mrs. Waggener, alleging that he had failed to comply with a court order to pay $50 monthly for the support of his wife and two children. Mr. and Mrs. Waggener had been separated several months.

BUILDING PERMITS PASS $100,000 MARK AT HUNTINGTON BEACH

SEE GREATER TOTAL FOR THE YEAR

Exposition Hall, Casino And Dance Hall May Be Constructed

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Issuing of permits today for construction of a new church for the Four Square Gospel group and a new home for Clarence Orton, local oil man, skyrocketed totals for Huntington Beach building activities this year past the $100,000 mark. The new church edifice will be located on Lake street between Palm and Indianapolis streets. M. Wallace, local contractor, will do the building and estimates cost at $4000.

Construction of a new $4500 six-room home for Clarence Orton will be started tomorrow. It will be located on Main street between Palm and Crest avenues. It will be of Spanish design and stucco finish.

Several more permits, awaiting approval of city and county officials, will add more than $130,000 to the present building figure, according to Harry A. Overmyer, city engineer.

Building of a modern dancing casino on the ocean front at a cost of $20,000 will be considered tonight by the city council. James H. Macklin has applied for a loan of $10,000 to remodel his building at Third and Ocean into a dance pavilion.

Plans for the erection of a $100,000 exposition hall on the opposite side of the pier from the casino have been proposed by W. R. Osborn, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee to arrange a program to commemorate the discovery of oil at Huntington Beach. The week of September 1-7 will be set aside as "Black Gold Week." An extensive program involving every oil company in the local field and the officials has been outlined by Osborn.

LAGUNA PIRATE SHIPS SOLD FOR LIGHT TOURNAMENT

LAGUNA BEACH.—The two Laguna pirate ships seen in the Festival of Arts which closed last week will again be "on parade" from July 26 to 28th, this time in the Balboa Tournament of Lights.

The Balboa chamber of commerce like the ships so well that they recently purchased the two model pirate boats to use in their festivities. One ship, replica of the "Santa Maria," will be placed on the sands and used for entertainment as it was in the Laguna Festival and the other will be put on a large boat and used in the bay for fire-works displays. It is the plan of the junior chamber of commerce to use this ship for a miniature pirate battle for the amusement of the visitors.

MAN DOES DOUBLE DUTY Builds Home In Spare Time

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Working hours mean nothing to Fred F. Hume, assistant city engineer, who is doing a one-man job of building a new house for his wife and daughter, Melba.

Hume arises promptly every morning at 3 o'clock and drives out on Hampshire street, where the new structure is located, to await the dawn so he can see to start pounding nails. At 8 a. m., after a little breakfast, he starts his day's work at the city hall.

Knocking off at 5 p. m., he grabs a bite of dinner and rushes back to the job of carpenter, mason, plumber, painter, roofer, electrician and interior decorator.

He complains about the short hours which the sun keeps, and is jubilant when the full moon lends sufficient light for extra work. The house is a five-room Monterey type and is more than half finished. Hume began construction about seven weeks ago.

Police Chief Is Called To Fight Bee Swarm

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—When Owen A. Mosier, police desk sergeant, receives a frantic telephone call stating that Frankenstein monstrosities are invading the realm of a woman's back yard, he always calls Chief George Gelzer to handle the case.

Mrs. Velma Clark, 808 Main street, sent one of those calls in the other day and Chief Gelzer rode to the rescue. He arrived in time to tackle a swarm of bees which had landed and had the back yard and porch well in hand.

After shooting the visitors away Gelzer returned to headquarters, reporting that it was a honey of a case.

PLAYERS TO STAGE 'THE TAVERN' AGAIN IN LAGUNA BEACH

George M. Cohan's famous old-timer, "The Tavern," recent smash hit produced by the Laguna Beach Community Players, will be repeated on Friday and Saturday evenings at the Playhouse, Laguna.

Victor Rankin, who scored a sensational success in the leading role of the vagabond, will again portray the part. The cast on the whole will be the same.

The Community Players received so many requests from out-of-town visitors to the Festival of Arts for a repeat on this play that it was decided best to present it again instead of doing a new production.

FLASHES OF Life

By the Associated Press

BY ANY OTHER NAME
BOSTON.—The Jefferson club of Somerville was on an outing. "The next event," announced the announcer, "will be the fat women's race."

No entries. "Cancelled," re-announced the announcer. "The next event will be the pleasantly plump ladies' race."

Six 200-pounders went to the post.

SHUCKS, 'Twas EASY
NEW YORK.—A little flattery, and out came a crime secret.

To John Mang, accused as a member of the Brooklyn-Queens "rifle gang" which eluded police for three years, a police lieutenant said:

"It's almost genius the way you boys always got away. We ought to name your method after you; that is, if we had any idea of how you did it."

Mang beamed, and told. They used two license numbers, he said, a big one on the rear of their car, a little number on the front. Pursued, they drove fast enough to turn around and double back.

The pursuers, looking out for a big number, paid no attention as the "rifle gang" sailed past with their little number showing in front.

WITH CAUSE
CHICAGO.—Jacob Wetzel reported to police he had been bitten on his right ankle by a Spitz dog. Officers located the dog and locked it in a cell. The dog, they said, appeared to be ill, but not mad.

Two hours later when a lookup keeper took a pan of food to the dog, he discovered not one prisoner, but three. The Spitz had given birth to two pups.

ORANGE PASTOR GIVEN PARTY

ORANGE.—The Rev. John Hess, pastor of the Menomone Brethren in Christ church, and Mrs. Hess were surprised Friday evening at their home when members of the church visited them in honor of both their birthdays, which are on the same day.

Andrew Campbell presented the group when they arrived at the parsonage and Mrs. Evelyn Pentecost and Mrs. Ruth Skiles sang a song arranged for the occasion. The pastor and his wife were given two birthday cakes and other gifts. Refreshments were served.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Campbell of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Skiles and children of Villa Park; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Meadows, Misses Mamie and Florence Skiles, Mrs. F. H. WESTERN AUTO CUTS PRICES

Of special interest to local motorists is the Western Auto Supply company's recent announcement of price reductions on more than 1000 different articles. R. C. Harness, local manager of the firm, said today:

"Being the largest firm of its kind in the world, Western Auto is in a position to affect greater savings in buying for its millions of customers," Harness said. "Since the founding of our company it has been our policy to pass these savings on to our customers in the form of lower prices."

"It is this policy of sharing our savings with our patrons that has made Western Auto so popular with western motorists. This popularity has led to the growth of our firm from one store 19 years ago to more than 170 today with a proportionate increase in buying power and in savings to motor car owners."

"Coming at the height of the touring season this announcement means more economical vacation trips for motorists."

Five-Bout Card Accompanies Dean-Szabo Mat Battle Here Tonight

BAD NEWS TO BLANTON

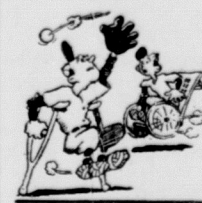

CY BLANTON, Pittsburgh's sensational freshman pitcher, will begin to think Bill Terry and Mel Ott of the Giants are his particular jinxes. He lost only two of his first eight starts, each time to the Giants. And each time Terry and Ott, batting third and fourth, and both lefthanded hitters, did practically all the damage.

Column Left!

DEAN MAY LOSE, SAYS OBSERVER

Even if most of our recent predictions have gone astray, we subject ourselves to possible further criticism and joking with another hunch-guess today.

Man Mountain Dean may lose his handicap battle with Sandor Szabo here tonight.

The Hungarian, unless we are as wrong as usual, will be too smart to get in the way of the big fellow twice in 20 minutes—and if you remember the provisions of this battle you know that Dean must take two falls from the hustling Hungarian within that time or forfeit the purse and the bout.

Szabo may lose one fall. He may also win one.

But he is too tough and too animated to fall prey to the elephantine Mr. Dean in the manner that Mike Romano and Pat Fralley laid down to him before two packed houses.

We aren't sure tonight's crowd will be a sellout, because some of the cash seat buyers are put out with Dean. But, along with the rest of the card which appears to be unusually action-potent, the customers who take their chances tonight should stand an odds-on chance to see some action and a thing rare in the history of wrestling: a defeat of Man Mountain Dean.

Of course there is one big-as-a-house reason why this prediction might go as wrong as a blues singer at a tea party—the fact that Dean is slated to wrestle Vincent Lopez for the so-called international title sometime soon.

We aren't too well posted on rules of "international" wrestling, but it seems to us a defeat via the handicap route wouldn't hurt Dean's prestige a great deal—or his title chances either. And it would help the local wrestling situation no end.

Everything will work out to the utmost satisfaction of all sides if Dean can take one fall during his 20-minute mixup and then fail to catch up with Szabo.

SHORT SHOTS AT SPORTING ITEMS

Mike Jacobs, the promoter, thinks the Schmeling-Louis battle will go beyond the half-million dollar mark—maybe even to $750,000. If so, it will be the largest game for a non-title match since Jack Dempsey knocked out Jack Sharkey in 1927 before $1,083,330 worth of people.

Olin Dutra, besides being champion of the recent Santa Monica open play, has a swell new job as pro at the Wilshire country club. Max Baer's Baltimore medic said the erstwhile champ should never have fought Braddock with his hands so warped. . . . Jimmy McLarnin, two-time holder of the world's welterweight title, is honeymooning with his childhood sweetheart, Lillian Cupt.

Personal nomination for the guy most deserving of sympathy just now: Ben Steffler, who as matchmaker for the local boxfight performances, has a tough job. . . . He gets the boys signed up and then because of loose amateur rules can't do a thing if they decide not to show—and several of them do that every week.

Five Innovations Mark Mat Spectacle; Local Japanese Star Billed

By FRANK ROGERS

You wrestling fans are in for all manner of unusual treats to-night.

Sam Sampson, the promoter who has piloted wrestling to one of the most popular sports in the county, has lined up a card that presents no less than five distinct innovations, to-wit:

A five-card bout—one over the customary lineup that for the past couple of months has been packing the populace in at the Orange County Athletic club arena on highway 101.

A stand-out main event in the Tony Felice-Nick Lutze tangle that brings new blood and new action to the top spot.

A handicap battle between Man Mountain Dean and Sandor Szabo in which the big fellow has promised to throw the Hungarian twice in 20 minutes or forfeit the bout as well as his share of the purse.

First appearance here of Oki Nishura, local Japanese wrestling sensation.

First appearance here also of Bill Hoolihan, reformed prize-fighter and widely recognized as the handsomest athlete in professional sport. If your standing with the girl friend isn't what you'd like it to be at this time, don't take her along to-night, the best of you won't stack up from a looks angle with Hoolihan.

Felice and Lutze tangle in a three-fall one-hour time limit bout with the popular Lutze favored to beat the Italian rougher. It should be a fiery battle all the way.

Szabo Has Chance

Dean has been called back here because of a poor performance with Mike Romano last week. Everybody in town went out to see the 217-pound grappler, but there was little action. Dean says Romano was too afraid of him to mix it and laid down—to prove his assertions that he really can wrestle he has agreed to meet Szabo under this huge handicap.

Szabo, known and very well liked here as one of the fiercest of mat performers, has defeated Dean in the East and stands an ace-high chance to do it again under the circumstances surrounding their battle tonight. Dean's bulk will not stand in the way of Szabo's taking a fall or two despite the fact that Romano could do nothing with the bearded giant.

Columbo Meets Ekizian

Hoolihan meets Hans Schroeder, tough German, in a one-fall 30-minute bout while Case Columbo, undefeated here, takes on Harry Ekizian in a similar bout. Columbo is probably the most popular of the performers here and has won every start with the exception of a draw battle with Szabo.

"Wild Bill" Grubbs takes on possible defeat in Oki Nishura, local Japanese corner, in the opener.

terday for the first time in three consecutive years of trying.

He trampled Worth Oswald of San Francisco, California champion, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

Lost Two Chances

Two years ago Tidball lost in the final match to Donald Budge, red-haired Californian. Last year he was eliminated in the semifinals by Vernon John of Denver.

HALL AND HILL WIN BEST BALL STAKES

Nelson Hall and C. W. Hill, carding a 69-8-61, triumphed in Saturday's best ball sweepstakes at the Santa Ana Country club.

Three combinations tied for second: Pat Kelly and Don Harwood, 77-10-67; B. V. Curry and Elmer Curry, 72-5-67; and H. L. Miller and R. A. Emison, 77-10-67.

Finals in the club's annual high-low tournament, delayed by the Santa Monica open, will be held next Saturday or Sunday, with Rex Kennedy and his 16-year-old son Don meeting Roy Langley and Ed Holmes.

In the defeated flight over the week-end, J. E. Swanke and M. N. Thompson eliminated S. C. Russell and E. E. Wilson, 3 and 2; and L. J. Bushard and Hugh Shields trimmed Ben and George Osterman, 4 and 3.

Woodington turned in an 88 in the following manner: Out—624 634 457—43; In—566 516 556—45.

Woodington is the third golfer to ace the difficult No. 14 hole. George Shattuck, now president of the club, did it several months ago, and L. J. Bushard accomplished the feat in January.

Budge, Wimbledon Hero, 'Quit Tennis' Two Years After Taking Boys' Title

OAKLAND, Cal., Monday, July 15. (AP)—Good enough in 1929 to win the California state boys (under 15) championship.

Good enough in 1935 to reach the semifinals in the "world championship" in his first effort at historic, glamorous Wimbledon.

Yet between these two peaks of his budding tennis career J. Donald Budge cared so little for the game that already has brought him world-wide fame that he actually gave up tennis for more than two years.

It was after this lay-off, when he'd just turned 17, that the newest rise that has carried him to sudden ranking with the world's greatest. In that year, 1932, the gangling red-head won the Pacific Coast junior title and cut a swath through star senior players in northern California tournaments.

It was in that year, too that Big Brother Lloyd, his mentor, last was able to beat him. In a five-set tournament final match.

Don was on his way. In 1933 he won the junior and men's titles in the California tournament and went on to capture the national junior crown—from his present doubles mate, Gene Mako—on his first try.

Last year Budge repeated his state men's singles triumph and went east to play the grass court circuit, winning the recognition that led to his (and Mako's) selection as Davis cup doubles alternates—and the chance to set Wimbledon agog.

Although Budge, who reached the age of 20 only last June 13, had some coaching in the last couple years, his early development was "self-made" and largely due to Brother Lloyd, himself a tournament player of considerable class.

Lloyd, then just 15 himself, sawed four inches off the handle of one of his bats when Don was a shaver of nine years and started the kid brother to whacking balls around on a dusty playground court.

"From the very first," Lloyd recalls, "Don showed a decided preference for that backhand volloping the Wimbledon experts raved about. He wanted to hit 'em all that way. We played a dozen times before he'd use any other stroke."

"He was naturally adept, all right, but tennis wasn't his main love and after he won the state boys' title his interest turned to other sports and he didn't play tennis at all for over two years."

He played basketball at University high here, from which he graduated last year. Even after he won the state men's title in 1933 he called tennis a "sissy game."

George Hudson, Berkeley Tennis club coach who had a big hand in Helen Jacobs' development, calls the Budge backhand "the hardest I've ever seen work with any regularity. He has terrific leverage."

KENNEDY LEADS S. A. GOLFERS

Four strokes above par, with a sparkling 68 on the final round, Southern California's junior golf champion—Don Kennedy—topped Orange County's four representatives in Santa Monica's midsummer open tournament.

Dutra, the former national open champ, won with a score of 266—18 below par—at the Clover field course yesterday.

Kennedy's score was 75-71-74-68 for a 288. Par is 284. He finished ahead of 43 golfers Sunday.

Dutra, now a professional at the Wilshire Country club, hung up one of the lowest cards in the history of the game in finishing nine strokes ahead of Joe Robinson of Brentwood Country club. Alex Follmer, Chico, was third with 277, and Stanley Kertes of Clover Field fourth with 278.

Scores of other county entrants: Vic Owen, Santa Ana, 73-74-72 for a 289; Charles Denio, Santa Ana, 74-75-80-74 for a 303; and George Lake, Huntington Beach, 76-72-82-74 for a 304.

Fullerton will play the Richfield Oilers next week.

The outcome was doubtful until Fullerton pushed over the lone tally in its half of the ninth, utilizing a walk, a sacrifice, a single and an outfield fly in order to bring around the score.

Bomo Catches Sensationally INTEREST IN POLO GROWS

Formation of a Santa Ana polo team to play in tournaments with San Diego, Long Beach, Colton, San Bernardino and other Southern cities probably will result from the growing interest being shown in the game here.

Clarence Ranney, 1934 captain of the Cornell university team; Ed Hall, Don Young and Ed Farnsworth, Jr., of Santa Ana, are among those promoting the game locally. Mr. Hall predicts Santa Ana will have a field of its own in the near future. The Santa Anans now practice at the Lomita club in Long Beach.

Mr. Hall was a member of the Long Beach team that lost to San Diego, 10-5, in a game at the California exposition yesterday.

Receiving the slants of the league's most effective first-half pitcher, Jimmy Coates, Koral studies batting opponents carefully, and his judgment in calling the height of pitches has added Coates in building up his string of more than 150 strike-outs.

Koral's only weakness in softball has been his hitting. He has shown improvement with the willow recently, and in time may develop into the fine slugger that he is in Sunday hard ball.

BY-C SCORES SECOND WIN IN TRIALS

International Champion Tillers Sloop in Far Ahead of Parade

Another world's championship for H. L. "Hook" Beardslee in the International star boat finals off Balboa August 23-28 was being predicted today.

Champion Beardslee and his partner, Myron Lehman, sailed the sloop By-C to her second straight victory in the five-race international championship eliminations of the defending Newport Harbor star fleet over a 10-mile course off Balboa yesterday.

The Beardslee sloop sailed home in 1 hour, 42 minutes, 16 seconds. Zoar, manned by Art Macrate jr., probably will represent the Long Beach fleet

COAST CLUBS STAGING HOT 2ND HALF

By the Associated Press
Pacific Coast league fans are surveying with pleasure the increasing prospect of a hotly contested playoff for the 1935 league championship.

Although the second part of the split season is less than half over, the long-time stranglehold of the Los Angeles club on the leadership seems to be definitely broken, while the two San Francisco outfits, the Seals and the Missions, are forging ahead.

Di Maggio Sets Pace
The heavy stick work of Young Joe Di Maggio is the chief reason why the Seals are in the top spot, a full game ahead of the Missions. Di Maggio, who set a league record by hitting safely in 61 consecutive games two years ago, ran his current streak to 22 games over the week-end as his mates came through to trounce Hollywood in both games, 4-2 and 12-5, of yesterday's doubleheader.

The Missions' shaky pitching staff gathered itself together behind the big bat of Oscar Eckhardt, league-leading slugger, and set the Los Angeles Angels down to a decisive series defeat. The Missions won two of the three week-end contests, to take the series, five games to two.

Errors Help Seals
Heavy hitting offset five errors afield as the San Francisco club won yesterday's morning game, 10 to 6. The Angels went on to win in the second, 2 to 1. They took the Saturday game 10 to 7.

Seattle's Indians, meanwhile, smacked out a double victory over Oakland to take the series, four games to three, and move into third place ahead of Los Angeles.

After playing steady ball during the week, the Oaks struck an erratic streak, committing errors all over the field to drop the morning game 3 to 5 and the afternoon contest 8 to 2. They won Saturday's game 9-3.

Sacramento's Senators halted their rapid slide down the percentage scale by turning on Portland for a double victory yesterday, 3 to 2, and 4 to 1.

BELL EXTENDED BY YOUNGSTER
SEATTLE, Monday, July 15. (AP) Although he won the Washington state tennis championship as expected, Berkeley Bell, New York one of America's highest ranking stars, had discovered today that they also play the game on the Pacific coast.

Displaying a variety of shots which were as sizzling hot as the weather, Bell defeated Dick Bennett, Oakland, but it took him the full five sets to shake the 19-year-old youngster. The scores were 7-5, 4-6, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Walter Hagen once taught a woman pupil to break 100 within a month of the time she first held a golf club in her hand.

Feeling Well Today?

ADOLESCENCE

A voluminous literature has been devoted to the subject of adolescence and its problems. Since the days of Rousseau and his confessions, numerous romantic writers, humanist philosophers, educators and psychologists have viewed with awe and at times bewilderment the growing up period of man.

Despite these monumental efforts, the public at large does not yet appreciate adequately the significance of adolescence.

Broader View
Our view must include adolescence both as a period of bodily change and as a period of emotional and psychological strain.

Most of us are inclined to think of adolescence in terms principally of sexual maturation. But in addition, the adolescent boy and girl undergo other constitutional changes.

These changes disorganize the co-ordination which the body had acquired. The boy who "shoots up" and who, in consequence, is now gawky, suffers a genuine lack of co-ordination, due largely to the fact that his skeletal system has "outgrown" his muscle system, his circulation, respiration, etc.

On the psychological side the process of growing up calls for equally radical readjustments. The young adult must learn to endure an increasing amount of pain resulting from the frustration of instincts which, during his childhood days, he was permitted to follow. The adolescent must overcome his self-centered interests and turn to the outer world.

Adolescence therefore has been described properly as a period of intellectual, moral and intellectual incoordination with attendant physical disorders. In the light of this, we can appreciate readily how deserving the adolescent is of our understanding and support—which may we add parenthetically, he so seldom receives.

Parents would do well to consult with their physicians about the "growing up period" and its problems, as well as to read up on the subject in good, recent, mental hygiene literature.

UNINSPIRED PUNISHMENT

"What will your mother do to you?"
"Oh, she'll bawl me out as usual and put me to bed."

It was a safe statement for Jack to make, for his mother's only form of punishment was to put the offender to bed. Disobedience, falsehood, tardiness, poor grades at school, were all treated alike, the only variation of procedure lying in the preliminary scolding.

'Off With Head'
There are many such mothers. Some use bed, some deprive the child of desserts, some spank, some imprison, but the form of punishment they favor they stick to, whatever the offense, like the queen of hearts whose one cure for anything which annoyed her was "Off with his head!" The child comes to accept the punishment philosophically, not as a just consequence of misbehavior, but because it is "mother's way." The

SUNDOWN STORIES
WILLY NILLY ACTS
By Mary Graham Bonner

The little man Willy Nilly stroked his whiskers and thought hard. Around him were Jelly and Honey Bear, the cubs Jupiter and Blacky, Sweet Face, the lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Quacko Duck and the other ducks, Top Notch, the rooster, and Christopher Columbus Crow.

"We've looked everywhere for Rip," Willy Nilly said. "All of us have searched the countryside and none of us has found him. Something has certainly happened. He would not stay away this long on a trip. He would know that we would worry."

"Besides he hasn't his collar on so no one will know his name, or his address which is on the collar. Nor has he his license."

All the Puddle Muddlers were sad and distressed. It was dreadfully not knowing—and thinking all sorts of things. Puddle Muddle would never be the same without Rip. How they longed to see his tall wag, to hear his cheery bark.

"What are we going to do?" cried Top Notch.

"I don't know why I didn't think of it before," said Willy Nilly. "I'm going to advertise in the newspaper. Do you remember when we had those flyers here and the men from the papers came over to take their pictures?"

The Puddle Muddlers nodded. "They took our pictures, too," said Top Notch. "I looked very fine in mine."

The Puddle Muddlers laughed for the first time in ages. It seemed so much more natural hearing Top Notch boast.

"I'm going to act at once," announced Willy Nilly.

BIG NEW YACHT AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, Monday,

July 15.—George A. Rogers of Los Angeles and Balboa, yachtsman, whose plans and untiring efforts helped make possible the $2,000,000 pleasure harbor development of the Orange county harbor here, has purchased a palatial yacht that he will bring into this port for permanent moorage.

The vessel is the 100-foot twin-screw Diesel-powered motor yacht, Norconian, and was purchased from Mrs. Grace S. Johnson of Los Angeles. The Norconian will be the third largest boat to make its home in this bay.

Fred F. Lewis, world traveler, who owns the 175-foot yacht Stranger, maintains the largest craft, and Harry J. Bauer, president of the Automobile Club of Southern California, owns the Puritan, the second largest.

ST. LOUIS, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Sam Bredon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals' baseball club, denied today reports that Pitcher Dizzy Dean had been sold to the Chicago Cubs.

YUGOSLAV UNITY FOUND MYTHICAL

BANYA LUKA, Yugoslavia. (AP)—An aged carpenter with nine children, Salik Huseinovich, confesses sadly that his experiment for the promotion of tolerance has failed.

This community frequently is disturbed by the dissensions of opposing religious systems.

"I'll treat 'em all alike," said Huseinovich years ago.

So four of his children were reared in his own Moslem faith, two became Roman Catholics and four embraced the Greek orthodox faith.

"But it didn't work," said Huseinovich. "I thought I was doing something for Yugoslav unity, but I'm being reproached from all sides."

NEW THEORY CHALLENGES EINSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, July 15. (AP)—A new theory that visions a spaceless universe built of energy alone was projected from the field of medicine into the world of physics today to challenge Professor Albert Einstein's latest conception of matter as "two sheets of space bridged by an atom."

Energy and matter are forms of the same thing, and space is discarded in this new concept, advanced by a noted pathologist, Dr. Eugene J. Asnis.

Abandoning mathematics, the theory likens the universe to a huge electric fan—with energy as blades—constantly speeding up and slowing down.

Energy at maximum is like the fan blades at high speed, Dr. Asnis says. Neither can be detected by the eye. Energy slows down just like the fan, however, and eventually becomes visible as matter.

Although contracting the Einstein belief that space and matter are similar, Dr. Asnis agrees with the famous German's statement that science must go beyond mathematics to find the answer to the riddle of life.

Answers Einstein
The new theory abandons mathematics, therefore, and comes to an answer to Einstein's quest for "zero mass."

"Zero mass," the pathologist says, is energy at its maximum, but "until the mathematicians and physicists find an equation equivalent to zero, they will be unable to solve the enigma."

"Their other choice will be to accept zero as their unit and they will save themselves new hypotheses and new theories."

Space is ignored by the theory as a mere manifestation.

"This room is filled with space," says Asnis by way of example. "Now fill the room with coal. Where is the space? It is gone. Where did you push it to? It was never there."

NEW TREES TO BE EXAMINED

In search of information that may prove of value in a project for development of disease-resistant cypress windbreaks, Dr. Carl Wolf, botanist at Rancho Santa Ana Botanic gardens, will go to the San Rafael mountains east of Santa Barbara some time this summer.

An "island" of cypress trees, said to contain a new species, recently has been discovered in the mountains. Dr. Wolf has examined samples taken from the trees.

While so far as he can tell from these specimens, the trees are the same as a species growing as far north as San Luis Obispo, Dr. Wolf said that the island may prove interesting in other ways.

Often trees isolated on such "islands" develop interesting characteristics, he said.

Rancho Santa Ana Botanic gardens is carrying on a study aimed at developing a cypress tree which can be used for windbreaks around citrus orchards, and which can resist diseases which now attack such hedges. A cypress native to Orange county has been propagated in the gardens, and so far has proven itself able to withstand disease.

BAKING ART IS RESTORED!

Strike Causes Use of Ovens

DES MOINES, Iowa, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Des Moines' housewives got a taste of "grandma's" days today as the bread strike carried over into its fourth day with no indications of a break.

Many a Des Moines mother, whose bread making had become a neglected art looked to her own resources for supplies of fresh bread.

Peaceful picketing continued at the six bakeries which have ceased operations, as bakery officials stood firm on their refusal to grant a closed shop for which union bakers, drivers and salesmen are striking.

DIRECTORS OF SAN DIEGO'S FAIR QUIT

LOS ANGELES, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Eyre Powell, director of publicity for the California Pacific International exposition at San Diego, today announced that Zack J. Farmer, managing director of the fair, and the entire managing staff had resigned.

Farmer, who was in direct charge of the successful 1932 Olympic games here, gave among his reasons in his letter of resignation to the exposition association:

"The continued San Diego antipathy toward what is termed locally the 'foreign management'; the continued factionalism and politics that have dominated in the corporate set-up; the squabbling that has persisted in your own direction of the financial control."

Powell said that those who resigned with Farmer included himself, J. David Larson, executive manager; Waldo T. Tupper, director of exhibits and Harold William Roberts, executive manager of the department of music.

ROOSEVELT AND AIDES RETURN

WASHINGTON, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Back from a week-end of fishing and shooting with President Roosevelt, democratic leaders faced a hot weather task of truly formidable proportions today.

They sought to hasten congressional action on a weighty list of controversial subjects. Although they still were mentioning August 15 as a desirable date for adjustment, they did so only in a half-hearted way. Most of them believed the session would go considerably beyond that.

If any plans laden with significance for 1936 or for the present legislative fight were discussed during the outing at the Jefferson Island club in Chesapeake Bay, the leaders were mum about them today. They insisted that it was an outing—just that and nothing more.

LAWYERS FIGHT SKY WEDDING UNITES PAIR

LOS ANGELES, Monday, July 15. (AP)—Definite action to curb "Mexican divorce lawyers" was among the things to be considered by the annual convention of the American Bar association opening here today. More than 2400 delegates were in the city for the gathering.

In addition to considering divorce lawyers whose specialty it is to obtain divorces below the border, the association also was to take up more stringent methods for prompt disarmament of unethical lawyers.

Today's session was to treat with insurance, trade mark and patent laws, mineral legislation, public utilities and the unauthorized practice of law.

In a report to be submitted at the opening session, the committee on co-operation between the press and the bar criticized the conduct of the Bruno Hauptmann trial and demanded that steps be taken to prevent a repetition of "such incidents."

If press reports are accurate, the attorneys for the defendant, and the prosecuting attorney as well, took advantage of the situation, and by personal interviews given to representatives of the press, and by talks over the radio, seemed wholly to disregard all the accepted rules of dignity and ethics with which the profession and the courts have sought to surround the trial of a man for his life," the report read.

Two planes in escort
Shortly before 3 p. m. the bridal party boarded the plane. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hofer, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were the attendants on the flight. Miss Hofer wore a white swaggar suit with white accessories. The matron of honor was gowned in a yellow silk sport ensemble.

The bride "procession" included two other planes which acted as escorts. One was piloted by William Cheney of the airport, and carried A. E. Hofer, father of the bride, and Miss Marjorie Johnson, sister of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony relatives of both families, with Rev. Mr. Masten were guests at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. The couple will make their home at San Clemente.

Mr. Johnson is the owner of an airplane while his bride is a flying enthusiast also, which provided the motif for the sky ceremony. Mr. Johnson graduated from the Orange Union high school in 1933. Mr. Johnson received his education in Geneva high school, Geneva, New York.

The Rev. Mr. Masten, formerly a minister at Orange, is now pastor of a Baptist church at Fallbrook.

160 MILLION DOLLAR PLAN IS AFFECTED

Government's Power To Condemn Property For Scheme Is Denied

CINCINNATI, Monday, July 15. The sixth district United States circuit court of appeals held today the federal government has no power to condemn land for use in public housing projects.

Directly affected is a $1,618,000 housing project in Louisville, Ky. Indirectly, however, Secretary Ickes has said, the suit here affected the entire $160,000,000 housing program in some 40 cities.

"The taking of any citizen's property for the purpose of improving it and selling it or leasing it to another, or for the purpose of reducing employment," the court ruled, "is not, in our opinion within the scope of the powers delegated to the government."

Judge Florence Allen, dissenting, wrote in part "I can not agree that the condemnation prayed for is unauthorized under the United States constitution."

Judge Allen, only woman member of the appellate court bench in the nation, argued, however, that "the power of eminent domain may be exercised wherever necessary and proper for carrying into execution the power of taxation and appropriation for the general welfare."

TIMES OUTLINES COUNTY TOUR

San Diego exposition visitors who want to know how to get back to Los Angeles "by way of the orange groves" were provided with an itinerary yesterday by the Los Angeles Times. A page of pictures and a map appeared in the Times' automobile section, describing an inviting tour through Orange county.

The map suggests two routes. After leaving San Juan Capistrano on the trip north, tourists may continue through Irvine, Tustin, Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton; or they may turn east through El Torra and make side trips to Trabuco canyon, Modoc's home in Santiago canyon, Silverado canyon, and Irvine park. From this point the map directs them back through Orange to the state highway, then on through Anaheim and Fullerton.

The tour is suggested also as a pleasant one-day drive on which visitors may travel south by one route and return by the other.

Accompanying the map and pictures is a story by Lynn J. Rogers, Times outdoor editor, describing the country to be seen and telling the history of interesting spots to be visited on the route.

DHOTIS, ADD CHIC TO BEACH WEAR

Trousers, skirts and long bathrobe coats appear in these new beach costumes designed by Schiaparelli. The costume at left combines trousers of gold and white striped glazed chintz and a loose linen jacket tied with a chintz sash. The one in the center tops a beach dress of golden yellow cravat silk inspired by the draped skirts worn by Hindu students, with a three quarter length coat of pink linen. The costume at right adds a bathrobe of rose, grey and green printed chintz lined with toweling to a green bathing suit. The panache berets are fashioned of tent cloth.

By ADELAIDE KEER

(Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS (AP)—The robes of Hindu students and the South Sea Island styles of Tahiti have inspired more beach styles to wear while lounging on sandy stretches this summer.

Schiaparelli has taken the dhoti—the draped skirt worn by the Hindu student—as a model for her latest beach frock designed of golden yellow English cravat silk to modern bathing beauties in printed jersey, cut in an intricate pattern and swathed around the bust and hips.

Heim favors the "pareos" which South Sea Island beauties wear as an inspiration for both swimming and lounge suits. He adapts them to modern bathing beauties in printed jersey, cut in an intricate pattern and swathed around the bust and hips.

Many Tailored
The rest of the beach costumes which will dot this summer's sun-brenched sands are chiefly inspired by the figure and demands of the modern woman herself, with a general tendency to expose less epidermis than last year. There is a strictly tailored swing to many of them.

In the beach suits and frocks the trousered cut appears in everything from brief trunks to fairly long divided skirts. Mainbocher makes trim suits of duck or pique combining shorts and a top with a tailored jacket. One outfit is fashioned entirely of white tablecloth linen and worn with a bright green ascot scarf.

Shirts and Shorts
Lelong likes shantung beach frocks with divided skirts falling well below the knee topped by bright flowered jackets or linen capes, while other designers combine shorts, which end a few inches above the knee, with colorful shirts and jackets or bare-backed chintz beach dresses and capes. Long beach coats of printed chintz lined with toweling are another 1935 design for lounging on the sands.

Mary Stoddard Parents' Greatest Contribution to Humanity Is Stifling Selfish Traits in Children

By MARY STODDARD

I honestly believe that the greatest contribution parents of today could pass on to humanity is to stifle selfish traits in their children as soon as they form in plastic minds.

Children live in a little realm all their own with such a different slant on standards and actions, that we often excuse them for their willfulness and unpleasant manners. Wise parents will recognize that a bad tempered child can grow into an undesirable adult if not otherwise directed from bad habits.

The following letter from a mother somewhat states the problem and tells the effect it is having on one poor little girl's life to be the object upon whom other children vent their selfishness.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I am bringing to you my problem that some of your readers might be able to help me with.

I have a daughter nearly 5 years old. Until last month or so she has had no playmates and has had to amuse herself. There are no other children in the neighborhood recently where there are several children. I let her visit them as long as they stay in their yards and they come and play with her, but I find the children taking advantage of her—making her stand aside while they make use of the toys, swings and so forth, not even letting her play with her own.

She has always been taught to be generous, but I am afraid if this keeps up much longer, she will have no will-power whatever. She will accept any terms just as long as they will stay and play, even letting them kick and slap her.

She has been starved for child companions, which we are unable to help as we live in the country. I want her to be generous and a good sport among her playmates, but how am I going to teach her to stand up for her rights and not be a doormat, without teaching her to be selfish and arrogant?

Perhaps some other mother has solved this problem. If so, I would appreciate hearing from them. It is really quite a serious one to me. Sincerely,

FAIR PLAY.
If you can spare the time, why not appoint yourself a committee of one to do a little constructive training in the rules of good form among your child's playmates? You might enter into their games for a few moments each day and instill a sort of honor system among them by initiating a turn-about system as regards the swing and other activities. Also you could at least attempt to teach them the rudiments of courtesy.

More echoes were heard Saturday from the southern district, California Federation of Women's clubs, annual summer conference held last week at Del Mar, when it was learned that Mrs. James O. Tallman, of the Costa Mesa Friday Afternoon club, president, and Mrs. William Sutherland and Mrs. Charles Brewster of La Habra Woman's Improvement club, were among Orange county clubwomen present.

That district yearbooks will soon go to press, that clubs wishing district chairmen and speakers next year should make their plans known to the district as early as possible, that 100 women attended the conference banquet in Hotel Del Mar, and that Mrs. John Stewart of Hesperia, district president, presided capably and pleasantly were among the reports brought home.

Members of the program committee of Emma Sanson chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Wells, Victoria drive, to plan activities for the coming year.

Tennis Sets Enjoyed By Bethel

Racquets and tennis courts took the attention of Job's Daughters yesterday morning at Santa Ana High school when members donned shorts and sneakers and went to the nets. In the tournament of play, honors went to Eloise Schrier and Mary Crowe.

Following the tennis matches, the group adjourned to the gardens of the home of Lorraine Wheeler, honored queen, 1028 West First street, for a waffle breakfast. Orange checked table cloths with napkins to match were used to decorate for the out-of-door breakfast.

Those who participated in the tournament were the Misses Mildred Pearson, Eupha Neer, Marion Pietke, Mary Crowe, Helen Pierce, Margaret Abel, Louise Rowland, Eloise Schrier, Janet Hollingsworth, Lenore McFarren, Virginia Waters, Margie McCune, Dorothy Carlson, Virginia Stewart and Lorraine Wheeler.

Others who attended the breakfast were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McFarren, Mrs. Mary Crowe, Mrs. Leslie Pearson and Mrs. Mae Marsh. Co-hostesses with Miss Wheeler were Mrs. Crowe, Mrs. McFarren, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. George Wheeler, Miss Carlson and Miss Crowe.

Lagunalog

Sun-gazers and moon-gazers... everyone coming Laguna-way this week-end it seemed... and no wonder. The sun was out and hot that everyone was bronzed by Sunday eve... and the moon kindly spending each evening just where one could watch it from the dance or board-walk. An ideal week-end for swimming, sunbathing or dancing and people from here and there took advantage of it.

Among the gazers glimpsed... Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Frazer sunbathing main-beach way... Virginia Rose of Los Angeles, Betty Hollenbeck, Ponamonte, Claire Shaffer, Pomona football captain last year, and Jack Frishman playing a bit of bridge on the beach between swims... Ann Chamberlain, summering again down Sleepy Hollow way, officially named as the most sun-bronzed in Laguna... Ruth and Jane Franklin of Pasadena and Cornelia Cook welcoming "Jerry" Madeline Palmer to Wood's for a couple of weeks... "Jerry" who is vacationing from Oakland, recently announced her engagement to Victor McNutt, also a Cal-gor... Jimmy Mullen showing Dave Brant and Sara Fazzard of Glendale the this-and-that places of Laguna, it being their first visit here... Chuck Young of Orange and Santa Ana, wait, Chandler, wandering lost and forsaken about Saturday eve... Shirley and Emmet Seacord dancing better than ever together... Dick Best of Santa Ana with a very lovely girl in black... Archy and Louise Archibold taking Laguna's good points to Mary Isch... Les McDonald of Santa Ana board-walk strolling Saturday eve; Les is working in Los Angeles now and likes it... Oscar Hanson particularly pleased-like a child, a "cock" her "tother" day; Oscar also a Santa Ana, has been in Los Angeles for a few months... "Lorna" Holmwood of Orange and Orr Poort studio-club chatting... Lew Conkey and Frances Parks of Tustin board-walk strolling Saturday

Noticed a particularly intriguing sign while swimming at Emerald Bay Sunday... it seems that Don Hall, former Tustinite, visited Freddie Schwankovsky, life-guard at the Bay, and felt there was an urgent need of a sign telling all about the life-guard's ability to teach "the art of the swim." Copied the sign and here's the wording: "Become Proficient in the Gentle Art of the Swim. Acquire Aquatic Prowess. Controlled Submergence. Super Surfing. Under the Peerless Mastery Tutelage of Professor F. J. Schwankovsky, B. V. D. In All the World There is No Fish Like Him." The climax of the very swell sign was that poor Freddie has been spending a half an hour to an hour a day explaining to inquiring ladies and gentlemen the secret of "controlled submergence"... and the sign is in a pretty tough spot to get down, so it looks as if the life-guard is sunk for the summer.

Mrs. Henry S. Winzler entertained with a very lovely cocktail party and get-together of old friends in her home Saturday honoring her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Heister, and Misses Mary and Ruth Winzler.

Wedding Date Announced At Party

That she will be married August 30, in Washington, D. C., to H. Nelson Spottswood of Washington, was announced by Miss Anne Hart, daughter of Mrs. Frances Hart of 1815 Valencia street, at a linen and towel shower given for her Saturday afternoon by Miss Margaret Esau and Miss Priscilla Allen at Miss Esau's home on Poinsettia street.

Miss Hart and her mother are to leave soon for the east. She will be given in marriage by her uncle, Robert Davidson. A graduate of Santa Ana High school, she has studied at the Art Center school in Los Angeles and for the past year has been in the art department of the RKO studios. She plans to continue her art study at the Corcoran Art Gallery.

Mr. Spottswood is a graduate of Maryland university and is now with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company. The young couple will live in Washington.

The tea table was attractive with centerpiece of zinnias and yellow candles in brass candle-labra. Toasted cheese rolls were served with the tea and dessert. Miss Hart was given a corsage, and each of the other guests received a daisy corsage, since the bride-elect will carry daisies on her wedding day. The bridal gown is being designed and made by a fellow art student in Los Angeles, and will be white net over white satin, worn with a shoulder length veil covering the face.

Guests invited were Mrs. Charles Hart and Mrs. Don Montalobodi, Los Angeles; Mrs. Charles Organ of Anaheim and house guest, Miss Dorothy Organ, of Edgar, Neb.; Miss Dorothy Tryon, Pasadena; Miss Clytie Barr, Miss Elaine Davis, Miss Marjorie Arundel and Van Brockner of Hollywood; Miss Elayne Thurlow, Glendale; Mrs. Ulrich, Miss Linda Paul, Miss Hazel Bemis, Miss Minnie Penman, Mrs. Boyd, Miss Grace Fox and Mrs. Frank Cory and daughter, Mary, of Santa Ana.

Ben Tarver, "Sunny" McDermott and sister, Lucie McDermott there-together Saturday eve... and everyone at the board-bring-a-quarter beach party at Picnic Cove Saturday night... one of those regular summer parties where everyone "chips in"... eats much too much... swims... and breezes down to the dance later.

Few last-minute jots from the note-book... card from "Bunny" Herrington in Panama and she's having a marvelous time, of course... plans to be in Europe for two months... announcement of the marriage of Connie Harris, Canadian who visited here with the Boehms, to William Henry D. Annals Wills in Bristol, England, this month... Marjorie and Carol Ferguson and Dorothy Douglas U. C. L. A. Alpha Phi's week-end... Ruth Woodward, Doug Perrin, June Storey, and Jim Hardin deserted the dance Saturday eve to speed-boat ride in Balboa... Lieutenant and Mrs. William Ott entertained a group of navy men and their wives at the board-walk ship Saturday eve... Gilt and Tim Parrish week-ended again... and hear that Grace Luckie is having a grand time in Tahiti. Until next week, hasta luego!

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women. If there is a question that interests or puzzles you, suggest it, and we will collect opinions on it for you!

Should people spank their children, or if not, how should they discipline them?

Mrs. Roy Horton.—I think most often children are disobedient because they don't understand. A child's desire to get and to do things often leads him into trouble. By reasoning with a child a parent can discipline and educate him at the same time. If it is really necessary, a little spank on the fingers might teach the child that his parent is really serious. Spanking a child tends to make him rebellious.

Mrs. Rose E. Ford.—I don't believe in spanking a child. I think it only antagonizes in dealing with a small child, if you can divert its attention and take the time to explain why you are doing as you are, it's better than to administer a spanking.

Mrs. Roy D. Lindsey.—I'm just old-fashioned enough to think a good sound spanking does more good than anything else to train a child. In my experience, some children who have never been spanked are most difficult. Wrong doing should be corrected for the child's sake, before it brings its own punishment.

Mrs. J. Riley Huber.—I don't believe in spanking, except in drastic cases. My child can be governed a lot better by a little praise than any other way. All children are different, and the problem is to find the way your child reacts best.

Guests meandered in from 4 in the afternoon until late evening. Among them: Mr. and Mrs. Loyl Solist, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hosmer, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. D. Hartley of Coast Royal, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Heverer and daughter, Mrs. Von Herzen of Alhambra, and Mrs. Ralph Frost Jr. and Mrs. V. Rush, and the Misses Mary Williams, Mary Heilman and Marjorie Burns.

Everyone "specially glad that "The Tavern" will be repeated here Friday and Saturday evenings. With the exception of Dorothy Pierce, Leslie Kimmell and a newcomer, B. Welch, the cast will be the same as last month's. Vic Rankin will play the lead as the Vagabond. George Dunham directs with Elizabeth Pierce as producer. You'll like it!
